

Tuesday December 31 New Year's Eve
Wednesday January 1, New Year's Day
Day 6 & 7 – Amsterdam to Innsbruck
By: Emma Berran & Simara Amador
Northern Lights 16-1

We woke up at the hotel and went down for breakfast. They wouldn't let us eat, but then Curt fixed the situation by giving the server person his room number. The breakfast was very good. Some people had yogurt with fruit while others had an assortment of different breads. There were also eggs, potatoes shaped like ovals, and waffles.

Once we were done eating, we went back to our rooms and packed. After we finished packing, we went down to the lobby to get ready to walk to the subway. We waited outside for a long time, when Curt finally came, we headed off.

We rode the subway to the airport. Our flight was an hour long and then the bus ride to Innsbruck was two hours long. On the flight, Kendal's legs were crushed because the man in front of her leaned his chair all the way back.

Once we got to the hotel everyone went to their rooms and waited for dinner. Curt ordered 24 pizzas for dinner. While we waited for the pizza, we played trivia with everyone.

That night after dinner we went to the Old City along the river for the New Years Eve party. The New Year's Eve party was a light show on the river with loud music. We stayed there for three hours, and then walked 30 min back to our hotel.

New Year's Day

We woke up and went shopping all day in Innsbruck. Most people took pictures first on the bridge with the mountains in the background. Then people ate lunch and went souvenir shopping. All of the souvenir shops had the same things and were ridiculously overpriced.

Most people went shopping for family gifts and sweatshirts. We met Curt in front of a tall Christmas tree and we went to dinner. Most people ate Mac and Cheese for dinner. We rode home on the train and everyone was relieved that we didn't have to walk back again.

We're super excited for the tournament and the rest of the trip. Miss everyone back in Minnesota but wouldn't have it any different. Peace 😊